About ERF

The European Robotics Forum 2017 is the meeting point for robotics in Europe, bringing together over 700 researchers, engineers, managers, and a growing number of entrepreneurs and business people from all over Europe. During the event, you will have the opportunity to:

- ▶ Identify the potential of robotics applications for business, creation of jobs, and meeting societal needs by listening to our presentations. Learn about the most recent breakthroughs in applications (from agricultural robots to health services) and new robotic business potentials by visiting our exhibition;
- ▶ Network with a wide range of participants from different countries and various robotics sectors during breaks and social events;
- ▶ Get to know ongoing initiatives in robotics within Europe by listening to the European Commission's opinions;
- ▶ Voice your opinion to influence decision makers and strengthen the collaboration between all stakeholders in the robotics community.

Scotland

Scotland, located to the west of continental Europe, is a land of dramatic coastlines, sandy beaches, wild mountain landscapes and stunning lochs.

Edinburgh, Scotland's capital city, is uniquely inspirational. Not only for its fabled loveliness, but also for its associations - past and present - with innovation, creativity, discovery and progress. The city is compact, safe and green, and visitors to Edinburgh can be sure of a warm and friendly welcome.

BY CAR

Edinburgh is easily accessed by a network of motorways and trunk roads, chiefly the M74, A1 and A68 from the South and the M8 from the West. The M9 and M90 head North.

BY RAIL

Edinburgh station is linked to all the UK's major cities and airports. A high-speed link to London takes just over four hours. The Eurostar service connects to Paris in around eight hours. There are trains to major cities across the UK, as well as to Scotland's favourite tourist destinations.
